Dear Sir/Madam,

I note your consultation regarding unfair trade practices.

It is noticeable from the news that many people have suffered from unfair trade practices most notably regarding timeshare holidays. While Marriot Hotels have reasonable marketing practices including a cooling off period, however many other timeshare marketers are less fair in their handling. As consumers, if we accept something, that's fine. However, when it is heavily sold to us with apparent duress, it is clearly unfair and should be stopped.

Similarly, it is noted that recently many yoga centres have suddenly been wound up leaving many people who have only recently joined and paid a lot of money suddenly at a loss. There should be legislation to tackle the possible criminal aspects regarding such trading.

Thank you
Mr. KH Chan
